

Yosemite Adult Education offers trio of classes

(Updated Wednesday, November 16, 2005, 7:00 PM)

Three new technology courses are being offered through Yosemite Adult Education.

For additional information about these and other classes, log-on to the Yosemite Joint Union High School District Web site, www.yosemiteuhsd.com and click on YCEC on the left side of the page. Those interested in classes can also e-mail, www.pstmartin@yosemiteuhsd.com">www.pstmartin@yosemiteuhsd.com or call (559) 683-8801 ext. 303.

Introduction to the Internet will be held Saturday, Nov. 19, in Computer Lab 32 at Yosemite High School from 9 a.m. to noon; cost is $25.

This class explains how to get into cyberspace and how to access information. It also covers e-mail and how to research a given topic.

Advanced Dreamweaver MX 2004 Web Page Design begins Tuesday, Nov. 22, and continues through Dec. 13 in Computer Lab 32 at YHS from 6 to 9 p.m.; cost is $30.

This four-week class combines visual layout tools with text-base HTML editing features for the creation, management and maintenance of Web sites.

It gives immediate access to the tools need for creating Web pages, while allowing experienced developers who are familiar with hand-coding to work directly with the code when needed.

Advanced Adobe Photoshop CS starts Wednesday, Nov. 30 and continues through Dec. 14 in Computer Lab 32 at YHS from 6 to 9 p.m.; cost is $30. The last class will be held Thursday, Dec. 15.

This four-week class will teach students how to create special effects, arranging layer objects in image ready, creating links within an image, optimizing Web images and creating rollover Web visuals.

A basic knowledge of Photoshop is a prerequisite.
